McCANDLESS SEEDS

Delegate and his companions left today in automobiles for Lahaina,

where they will speak to another crowded meeting of Republicans before boarding the Mauna Kea for Ho-lulu at midnight. The Prince will return to Molokai and the leper settlement from Honolulu some time

next week.

Hon. S. E. Kalama and Republican candidates of Maui County will take the Mikahala for Molokai tomorrow afternoon. The seeds of discontent which L. L. McCandless dropped on Mau are being carefully weeded out by the Delegate and Mr. Atkinson, and it will be a great surprise to even

the Democratic leaders if Mr. Mc-

Candless will receive more than three hundred votes on Maui and Molokai,

and perhaps Mr. McCandless himself

does not even expect such returns.

Kahaulelo has withdrawn and Judge

J. W. Kalua will likely be indicted.

The Judge will fight the case. The Democrats will tour Molokai next week.

BIG POLITICAL RALLIES

In the fifth meeting will be held at Moanalua and the speakers will be candidates for Representative from the Fifth; John Hughes, E. W. Quier, and E. Henriques, candidates for Senator, John Wise, J. Bicknell, D. Kalaokalani, Jr., John Cathcart, H. M. von Holt and C. J. Holt, all County candidates.

Music will be furnished at both meetings by Hawaiian quartet clubs, and some of the strongest arguments of the campaign will be presented.

The Democrats will this evening concentrate all their efforts on a big rally meeting at Aala Park. They may have no meetings tomorrow night, or, at least, if they have meetings they will probably limit the speakers to the candidates for Representative from the Fourth District, as the rest of the candidates need a rest before they start on their trip around the island next Wednesday morning.

Link McCandless this morning went to Waimanalo to try to counteract the effect of the Republican meeting there yesterday. He is said to have made arrangements for this meeting some days ago.

The Democrats report that they had a good meeting at Pearl City last Saturday night, the audience being estimated to have exceeded six hundred. A special train took the candidates from the city, and on the way the crowd was picked up at Puuloa, Aiea and Kalawao, while the regular train bound for town brought people from Honolulu, Ewa and Waipahu.

REED'S TESTIMONY

been committed and that Wynne was the man who had done the deed. His speech to the jury was short.

After James Reed, the first witness, called for the prosecution, had explained his connection with the steamer Rosecrans at the time the crime was committed, he was asked a number of questions to enlighten the jury as to his knowledge of the position of the rooms along the alleyway in which the crime was committed. Rawlins then immediately jumped to the main feature of his testimony, asking Reed where he was on the night of September 20th, 1907.

"In Honolulu," answered Reed. He then stated that he was on watch from 6 p. m. until 12 m. that night. Frequently during his testimony he was interrupted by objections on the ground that what he was saying was hearsay, and finally, in the matter of corpus delicti, when Rawlins asked Reed an important question, the argument became so strenuous that the jury was excused until 2 o'clock this afternoon in order that the legal point as to the admissibility of certain evidence could be threshed out before the Judge.

The evidence in dispute was that of Reed's when he was about to tell what he saw at the time the deed was committed.
